Using Variables & Lists by Kathy Cudak (2014)

Description: This world is a demonstration of using variables in a list in order to get objects to move in unison without writing separate code for each. It is an extension of the tutorial presented by Yossra Hamid, one of the undergraduate assistants. It will go along with a lesson plan using the For All in Order command and using the functionObject part key named.